GIRLS TO PLAY SOFTBALL AT PARK TONIGHT

The Sidney team of young lady softball players paid a visit to North Saanich School grounds last Thursday evening and engaged the fair maidens of that district in a crucial contest before a hilarious crowd of fans that assembled to witness the fun. And fun enough there was—ask Tuckie Clanton, who had great difficulty in the last inning in keeping control of a very necessary part of her uniform that developed a persistent habit of "falling down dead" in order to hold up the game, just stubborn like! Safety pins seemed of no avail, it would fall down, regardless! In this predicament "Babe Ruth" Livesey socks the pill away over to George Clark's farm or somewhere down in "Ardmore" to make a home-run with the bases filled. Takin' advantage of the situation I call it! Yes sir, those North Saanich girls came to bat five down in the last inning and before "bloomers" would come down to earth, or rather before they could be persuaded to rise up from the earth they had chased across plenty and then some, the game ending 20 to 18 or something like that.

These two teams always guarantee an exciting time, and they meet tonight at the Memorial Park in Sidney—so be on hand and enjoy the fun, and bring a safety pin with you, just in case things slack up a bit!

A big "bun feed" is to be held at the close of the game for all the players.

The information was "phoned into" Victoria after the "City of Bellingham" arrived in Sidney Sunday evening.

North-While Music!

This old world's full of song,
Voices sing the whole day long,
Some are weak, and others strong,
And quite a few have flaws.
Anyway, first time you are here—
In Sidney, just incline thine ear
And listen to the music of
"The Old Mill Saws."

CHORUS

I love music—so do you,
Lots of other people, too,
Operatic, also crazy jazz;
Yet there's music far more dear
To the worker's heart and ear—
The music of The Old Mill Saws. (Repeat)

Folks rave about the Gramophones,
The Radios and Movietones—
Canned music—hideous squeals and groans—
I'm sick of them, because There's sweeter music "On The Air,"
Working days, rain or fair—
That great Home-building Music of
The Old Mill Saws. (Chorus)

When they're humming—we all know,
They sing Me, So, La, Te, "Dough"—
Dough that takes us to the Show,
And buys us nice gee-gaws;
I venture this—and mind it's true,
Some of us would sure feel blue,
Did we not have the Music of
The Old Mill Saws. (Chorus)

—BOBBY SLOAN,
Canadian Rabble Rouser.

Sidney, V.I., B.C., Canada,
August 8th 1929.

NOTE—Commencing Monday first, and every working day thereafter, the above song, under the able conductorship of Herr Swanen will be rendered by The Sidney Lumber Mill Male Voice Choir, in front of, and broadcast from Stacey's Oil Station, at 12.57 noon, Pacific Standard Time—so tune in!

RESIDENT POLICE NEEDED

Since the sudden death of the late Constable Hadley the town of Sidney has been patrolled by Provincial Police from Victoria, and while this service is greatly appreciated by the residents the news seems to have passed along to petty thieves and undesirables that Sidney has no local police and is an easy mark.

Two weeks ago, Wednesday, July 25th, during the night, someone forced an entrance into the Sidney Trading Company's store through an upper window and went through the cash registers and finding the safe with only the day lock on (Mr. Cochran, the manager, being suddenly called out near closing time forgot to turn on the combination), went through three drawers of same securing some $65 or $70 in one and two-dollar bills, overlooking several $10 bills covered by cheques under the one's and two's. Fortunately a lower drawer containing several hundred dollars in bills was not opened. Just what was taken from the cash registers is not known as only silver had been left in them.

The same night, we are informed, a battery was stolen out of a launch at the wharf at the foot of Beacon Avenue. The following night Mr. Greenwood, of the Sidney Hotel, at a late hour put to flight a suspicious character prowling around the rear of his auto camp. Several other residents have complained to the Review of prowlers being around their homes.

The point we wish to make is this: That while we can get the Provincial Police here in 20 minutes or so from Victoria, they can be heard coming on their motorcycles in the calm of the night for miles off, thereby giving a warning to suspects to disappear. There is a certain moral influence present always when it is known there is a local policeman, petty thieves never can be certain of not bumping into him around the next corner. When a local policeman is familiar with all local short-cuts, by-ways, etc., he can very often respond to a call on a route that is liable to trap the prowler or thief, and the very fact that there is a policeman in town will in itself reduce the number of suspicious characters hanging around.

As an aid to keeping our town free from characters wandering around in the dark we would suggest that during the present heavy tourist traffic, at least, that the street lights be kept on all night. This is a matter for the Sidney Board of Trade and B.C. Electric to get together on. Local girls working at the cannery should not be compelled to walk through town in pitch dark at one, two or three o'clock in the morning after the run of fruit has been put through. With boats, launches, tugs, bootleggers, etc., pulling into Sidney at all hours of the night we should have light to show the way through town.

A local policeman, not unlike the late big-hearted Bill Hadley, is needed in Sidney permanently.

THE SLOW POKE DRIVER

The speed boy has been grilled until he is crisp. His shortcomings and swift going have been analyzed and penalized. Laws have been enacted against him, and even the schools have inserted a course in their curriculum against his villainies.

On the other hand, his counterpart, the slow poke, has received nothing but tacit praise. Laws have not found their way upon the statute books to improve him. Editorials have not mangled his form or reputation. He has been accepted as virtue's own good child.

And yet he is a hidden menace. He grinds along at a snail's pace filling the fretting, fuming machines back of him with sulphurous profanity. He heads a funeral procession and yet does not ride in the hearse where he belongs. He inhales the scenery, jabbing out his arms in divers directions on a narrow road, and keeps the hurrying world from arriving. He has time to burn, and burns it by slow fire. Coming to an intersection, he stops and takes a vacation. Those behind him have to wait until his mind catches up to the traffic and then wanders across. Usually he waits until other cars heave into the offing, and then advances upon the works and tangles up progress in all directions. When he does enter a disputed area, he demands yards and yards of brake-lining from others as a sacrifice to his loafing.

Frequently he chooses the middle of the road because he can do more execution there by halting cars trying to pass. He esteems it a generous contribution to society to prevent others from traveling at normal rates of speed. Often the grinding heard is not of gears, but of teeth.

If he and the speed boy could be projected into some mechanism that would grind them up together so that a new human might emerge with a general average, a decline of deaths from accident in the morning issues would ensue.

IT'S THE FARMERS' TOWN, TOO!

Pride in the home town should not be confined to those who live within it. The farmer should be interested in the town in which he trades, because it is his town, too. He helps to make it what it is.

In this connection some thoughts by an unknown editor are worthy of consideration. He said:

"Farmers are vitally interested in towns. Proximity to a live town is worth dollars per acre. Their happiness and prosperity depend on having a social centre.

"Prosperity in the community is closely linked to its retail business. When the people buy and the merchant sells (when money and merchandise move) then the community is prosperous.

"Spending money at home—to maintain and develop a more prosperous home market—means better and more prosperous communities. The farmer fares better, the closer he co-operates with the local merchant and both must progress together.

"When we separate farmer and merchant, we tear down the fabric of community life. When we bring them together we build for a stronger agriculture and better community for life."

THE TYRANNY OF YOUTH

The overestimate of youth is a phase of weakness. The disposition to lament its passing is an evidence that one has not found the secret of a happy life.

Youth is the time of enthusiasm, bright hopes and hot desires. The tendency of the immature mind is to consider these things the best part of existence.

If we are fortunate enough to acquire any wisdom as we grow older we find that contentment does not lodge in these things, but is a prize to be gained by the normal use of our will, our intelligence and our skill in self-mastery.

The sentiment which crops out so often in poetry and in novels that the joy of life's morning is all that's worth while is closely akin to cynicism.

For it leads to cynicism and to despair when the early period is once past.

The impression you get from the average novel is that the interesting part of life is over when the young people are married and done for.

As a matter of fact, the best part of life ought to be after fifty.

The average Canadian family is dominated by the children.

This is bad for them and for everybody else. It makes them intolerant, selfish and disagreeable. And it reduces their parents to a state of peonage.

The truth that every parent ought to know is that if a child's youth is to be a permanent asset in his life it must be made a period of discipline rather than of self-indulgence.

No one wants to go back to the heartless, callous and unsympathetic system of treating children. They should have their full portion of love, appreciation and understanding. But at the same time they should be made to realize that life is not all a matter of having a good time.

It is a matter of self-mastery, of honor and of heroism. Such qualities alone bring permanent happiness. And such qualities do not grow in a soil of continual indulgence.

It is not a choice between whether one shall be happy when he is old or when he is young. Rather it calls for an intelligent study of the problem how to govern the pleasures of all our days so as to make one's whole life worth while.

BEAUTY IN PERSON

Probably it is a good many years since men first began making jokes about woman's pride in her personal appearance. And, beyond doubt, such jokes—justified or not—will continue to be cracked for years to come.

The other day a 55-year-old woman pleaded guilty in New York to a grand larceny charge and was sentenced to spend from two and a half to five years in prison. She asked the judge for one favor: could her sentence be postponed a week so she could get a permanent wave?

The judge consented, and the woman went to get beautiful before departing from the sight of men.

Might we ask the Sidney Board of Trade whether it is proposed to hold the Water Gala this year or not? We know that it takes time to prepare the event and the hard-working volunteers that have done the lion's share of the work are tied up worse than ever with duties at the ferry wharf. But we believe the time has arrived when an energetic man should be hired to prepare for the event, the cost to be raised by a subscription taken up among the business houses of town. Come on, let's get this swimming event going for the benefit of the children and youths of North Saanich.

Hot whether long-distance

lines

During the week of July 28, hot weather was responsible for 10 cases of trouble on the long-distance lines of the B.C. Telephone Company, putting various circuits out of order for periods ranging from five minutes to one and one-half hours.

Just as cold weather causes a contraction of copper toll lines, hot weather causes them to expand, and, although telephone men keep a careful lookout for trouble of this kind, an unexpected sag in a line during the summer season will frequently cause wires to come in contact with each other.

TROOP

We have been doing quite a bit of camping out and having a good time.

On the 25th last a rain storm made things very wet, but we have put new roofs of tarpaper on our shelters and hope that they will be water tight now.

Last week the Pack camped out for a night and things went so well that we are going to try it again later on.

The Troop is camping for a few nights, starting Wednesday, and anyone that would like to visit our camp will be welcome.

A short while back one of the boys got into difficulties while bathing and would have drowned had it not been for the ability and action of Ted Skinner. Skinner is a Cub and learned to swim this spring. When he saw this other boy in trouble he went in, and although only a small boy of 8 he was able to keep the bigger one afloat until assistance arrived.

Ted Skinner is to be highly commended for his pluck and action.

WEDDING AT CITY CHURCH

At Christ Church Cathedral Wednesday evening, July 24, at 8 o'clock, the marriage of Catherine Ada Agnes, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Francis, Cook Street, and M. Sidney Roberts, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. S. Roberts of Sidney, was solemnized by Rev. F. A. Ramsay.

In the unavoidable absence of her father, the bride was given in marriage by Mr. A. J. Jack of Vancouver, and was smartly gowned in ivory white satin, fashioned with long-sleeved bodice and with full skirt, ankle length at the back and shorter in the front, trimmed with rose point lace. Her wedding veil of silk embroidered net fell in graceful lines and was held in place on her head in cap shape, with three small strands of orange blossoms, while a strand of the flowers was arranged from ear to ear under her chin. She carried a shower of pale pink roses and sweet peas. She was attended by her sisters, Mrs. E. B. Roberts, as matron of honor, and Miss Marjorie Francis, as bridesmaid. Mrs. Roberts wore a frock of coral and pale yellow taffeta, a Leghorn hat in pale yellow, trimmed with coral pink velvet, and carried a bouquet of deep pink gladioli and mauve sweet peas. Miss Francis wore a dress of pale green and pale pink taffeta, a pink and mauve picture hat of silk mohair and carried a bouquet of pink gladioli and mauve sweet peas.

Little Miss Lois Carter made a fascinating flower girl in a dainty frock of mauve taffeta and carried a basket filled with mauve and pink sweet peas.

The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Edward R. Roberts of Yakima, while the ushers were Mr. Graham Harris and Mr. Allan Pen-dray.

Mr. Stanley Bully presided at the organ and during the signing of the register, Miss Josephine Duncan sang "I Love You Truly."

Following the service at the cathedral, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 1409 Cook Street, where the bride and groom were assisted in receiving their guests by Mrs. Francis, wearing
